ATELIER TETE

ATELIER TETE tableware is brought to life by refined craftsmanship. “Te” means “hand” in Japanese, and the experience centers on the hand—traces of handwork can be seen in the tableware, and your hands are naturally led to touch each piece. Inspired by natural objects, there is beauty in the subtle unevenness of shape, texture and tone. The edges are thin and smooth to assure comfort when using. The elegant pieces enhance your presentation on the table.

HIBI

HIBI, meaning “day to day” in Japanese, is designed to be timeless basics for the everyday table. The rice bowl and urushi bowl fit comfortably in your hands with a slightly narrowing base. The plate is slightly deepened in the center to accommodate various dishes. Each urushi bowl is given shape by skilled craftsmen from cherry wood, and carefully finished using the “fuki urushi” technique in which lacquer is applied and wiped off many times.

KITCHENWARE

KAKOMI

KAKOMI IH donabe

KAKOMI IH donabe can be used on gas, induction heating, or halogen cooktops. You can easily prepare a healthy dish by steaming ingredients using the steam plate. Without it, you can simmer and stew various pot dishes. Cleaning is easy as the pot’s water absorption rate is extremely low and it prevents odors from remaining.
